

Hume City Council's plan addresses rapid community growth by outlining a clear roadmap of projects and priorities designed to keep everyone active, connected, and engaged.

“A connected, inclusive and active Hume, where people places and programs come together to increase physical activity levels, wellbeing and belonging.”

Equity

Inclusion

Connection

Flexibility

Partnerships

Wellbeing

Sustainability

Innovation

380,000+

Hume's population is projected to more than 380,000 by 2041.

50.7%

Over half of adults (50.7%) didn't participate in sports or physical activities, above the Victorian average.

Adults

Hume

(Last 12 Months)

Children

Walking 39.7%

Fitness/Gym
18.4%

Bushwalking
12.9%

Swimming 22.6%

Walking
19.5%

Basketball
15.7%

DRAFT ACTIVE LIVING PLAN

How we will succeed, together

Success depends on partnership

We will collaborate with schools, clubs, health providers, developers and community groups.

Co-investment is crucial

Securing funding from State and Federal Government is essential to deliver major projects.

Shared use of facilities

We will maximise community access and reduce duplication by promoting shared facilities.

Most projects are currently unfunded. Delivering this vision depends on future council budgets, advocacy, and investment.

Your voice shaped this plan

Survey Responses: 7,000+

Community Drop-in Sessions

Workshops with Hume Sports Clubs

We want more ways to be active, close to home, in safe, inclusive, and welcoming spaces.

Interviewing associations and sporting bodies

“The Active Living Plan is more than a strategy, it’s a collective commitment to ensure that every person in Hume has the opportunity to be active, be connected and belong.”

We want to hear from you
Go to participate.hume.vic.gov.au/active-living-hume or scan QR code to read the full plan and share your feedback.

